HOUSE PASSES "SHACKS" BILL

$25,000,000 Expended for Roads by Its Terms.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The Shackelford good roads bill, carrying an appropriation of $25,000,000 to aid the states in improving their post roads, was passed by the houses late yesterday, 281 to 81. Three members voted "present."

The states would share in the appropriation on the basis of their population and the number of their post roads. The money would be disbursed through the various state highway committees.

Opponents of the measure insisted that this proposed appropriation would be only the forerunner to requests for others of a similar nature.

Representatives from the larger cities generally opposed the project on the ground that the roads would go to favored sections of rural districts. It was predicted that strong opposition would be encountered in the senate.

BRACE ASKS $6,840

SUIT OF DEAF-MUTE FOR 20 YEARS
LABOR ON TODAY.

COURT ROOM CROWDED

Many Witnesses on Both Sides—Defense Trying to Show Care Was Philanthropy.

The remarkable case of a man who worked from 12 to 45 years of age without pay and is now suing for pay at $29 a month for 342 months is being heard in circuit court today. It is believed that it will take all of today and part of the night.

Charles Patterson who lives two miles south of Orrsburg, is the defendant in the case. The plaintiff is C. E. Brace, a deaf and dumb man. His testimony is that he came from Iowa in 1879 when 12 years old. He alleges that he was to go to school and have his board until he should become able to do a man's work when his pay should begin.

Wages from the time he was 18 are asked. Ellis G. Cook is the plaintiff's attorney. He is assisted by Wright & Ford. Cook, Cummins & Dawson are representing the defendant. Considerable amusements was caused when the witnesses were asked to rise and be sworn. Almost everyone in the court room stood.

The defense is trying to show by its evidence that Brace was a burden during all the years Mr. Patterson kept him and that it was philanthropy. No denial is made that Mr. Brace lived in his home but evidence was introduced to show that his defense and dumbness made him a poor workman and that he was ill much of the time.

The jury hearing the case is: M. C. Humphrey, Miles Fast, O. S. Tudder, John Halasey, Don Donahue, G. W. Porterfield, Charles Walker, H. D. Shull, R. W. Graham, Lon Hughes, T. J. Ingram and Purcell Durbin.

Huff Took Non-Suit

Carl W. Huff of Pickering, took a non-suit yesterday afternoon in his suit against F. B. Dinsmore of Orrsburg. Huff alleged that he bought $300 worth of sheep from Dinsmore paying $100 and agreeing to pay $200 when the forty sheep were delivered. The defendant showed that the check had been returned and after this evidence, the judge told the attorneys before their instructions to the court had been presented, or the addresses to the jury had been made that he would have to instruct the jury to find for the plaintiff. Mr. Huff then took a non-suit making a jury decision unnecessary.

The appeal of James Joseph Duncan from the probate court asking that he be made administrator of the estate of Sarah M. O'Donnell in the place of J. J. Enis, was over-ruled by Judge Davis.

OLD HOUND "CASS"

HAS PROTOTYPE IN MARYVILLE AND MISSOURI.

STOLE ALL HE COULD GET

So Does Liquor Traffic Here, Says the Press Superintendent of the Local W. C. T. U.

My fathers recreation from business was to hunt foxes in the mountains of Virginia. He loved his pack of hounds, and when he brought us all to far away Missouri, there was one he was too fond of to part with. This hound was named Cass, and had served his master well in many a chase. Cass was a wonderfully knowing dog; had cunning that well matched that of the fox, and when all other hounds failed, he would somehow, by animal strategy get the game. This so won my father's love, and admiration, that when we came west he brought him along; where he at once became an object of admiration to the men, and terror to the women.

Now Cass, though such an intelligent hound, had bad morals and when he got to Missouri they became exceedingly bad. He was seldom in an open fight, but became the most terrific thief ever heard of.

There were no foxes to hunt in Missouri, and Cass, no longer enthused by the sound of the hunters horn, his idle brain became the devils work shop, and all of his wonderful dog talent was used in raiding kitchens, meat houses, sucking eggs, etc. It grieves me yet to think how my dear mother suffered from the depredations of that old dog. She put our food upon high shelves, but Cass would climb to it by breaking several dishes. If the cellar door was left open without a watcher a few minutes, she might expect nothing else than to find the cream jar turned over, and Cass down there licking up the cream. She put cayenne pepper into eggs to break him of sucking them, but that only improved his health,—nothing improved Cass. One day I heard the colored cook scream from the kitchen, "Oh, Lord 'a' mercy," and Cass ran by me with the chicken in his mouth she had cooked for dinner.

My mother protested, time and again and begged father to kill Cass, emphasizing the fact that he was of no value to him whatever. On such occasions my father answered not, but hung his head and communed with himself on this wise: "I am very sorry Cass interferes so much with domestic matters, but how can I kill him? Has he not served me well? and was he not the leader of the chase? and have I not brought him all the way out here from Old Virginia? No, no, no, I cannot, cannot, turn my unerring rifle upon old Cass." So not only we, but the neighbors, had to continue to suffer from his ravages; for he had an appetite like an anaconda, and there seemed to be no satiating it,—and sometimes I really believe he stole merely for the Satanic pleasure of it. Some sheep were killed once, and suspicion rested strongly upon Cass, but nothing could be proved on him, and other dogs seen eating the meat were killed for what no doubt he had done.

One summer day company came, and my mother had prepared an extra fine dinner. Just as we sat down to eat, a child, who had been left in another room asleep, awakened with a spasm, and all rushed from the table;—father taking time to look back and warn us children, in that positive way of his, not to follow, but to remain (Continued on page 2.)

JUST COLD CASH.

Just like many other good things, this State Normal School argument against the saloons is so good that it shows danger of suffering a breakdown from over work.

So much is said on the pro-liquor side though about the revenue of the liquor traffic and whatever business it may bring to a town that we shall risk another mention of the Normal argument on a cold cash basis.

Fifty students told President Richardson last week that they knew to their certain knowledge of one or more students who would be in the Maryville Normal if it were not for the presence of saloons here.

Well, let's be conservative and take only fifty. How much does a student spend a week in Maryville? Isn't $5 weekly for board and room alone a fair estimate? That doesn't include what is spent for clothes or luxuries but the actual living expenses.

Fifty students would be here paying $5 a week if the saloons were not here. That means Maryville is losing at least $250 a week. The Normal is in session a little better than forty-eight weeks. But always staying on the fair side, let's say forty-eight times $250.

It makes the total of $12,000 of plain, cold cash which would be pouring into the grocery stores and meat markets of Maryville here, if the saloons were not here. The saloon pays $3,400 a year. That's a deficit of $2,600.

It is a well-recognized fact with business men and economists that money brought into the circulation of a city in that manner is practically equal to a per capita distribution of it, so far as its direct benefit to every citizen is concerned. Even if the city's revenue has to be raised by direct taxation, will it not be a matter of good hard business sense to vote out the saloons of Maryville a week from tomorrow?

How names evolve was shown interestingly by a boy's stunt this week. Many were curious to know what was meant by "One-Girl" party. Its name arose thus: It was first to be called "Best Girl" party. But that was too embarrassing for the girls. So it was changed to "The One Girl" affair. That caused the same blushes so "One Girl" became the reception's name.

Fuller Grippe's daily grouch was turned today toward window cards and signs. "I always want to smash a window and take the cards out when

Baking Helps

Learn to Regulate the Heat of
Your Oven

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

There is just one way to make your cakes rise high and keep an even surface. Have your oven moderate at first, until the cake is fully risen; then increase the heat, so as to brown it over quickly. Extreme heat stiffens the dough. If you stiffen the outside of the cake before the rising is complete, you stop the rising process. Then the leavening gas, forming inside, will bulge up the center, where the dough is still soft, and spoil the shape of the cake.

Now—Results of other pastries made from stiff dough, that are cut into shapes for the oven, bake in a hot oven. This is because the cut surfaces of the dough do not sear over, but rather leave the pores open, allowing the leavening gas to escape and the heat to penetrate readily. Small ovens cool quickly; therefore they should be made several degrees hotter than a larger oven, and the less the door is opened the better. Do not attempt to bake bread and pastry together. Bread requires prolonged, moderate baking—pastry the reverse.

Have a strong underheat for baking powder preparations, especially pastry.

These are only a few of the many baking helps found in the K C Cook's Book—a copy of which may be secured by sending the colored certificate taken from a 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the JAGUES MFG. CO., Chicago.

I see an announcement of the Missouri Wesleyan game two weeks ago, the lacum and basketball of last week and a sale or two, all stale as having Merry Christmas in the window until the Fourth of July," he growled.

A wise philosopher once said that the best road to health was always to get up from the table slightly hungry. Many also believe (and practice) that the way to be alert each day is always to get out of bed sleepy.

The transportation trinity is "road, rail and river." It has rightly been said that the greatest possible prosperity can be assured to our country only through the equal development and harmonious cooperation of all these three.

A bright appearance may get a job but it seems to take something, known usually as gray matter, to hold the place.

LAST YEAR'S CORN NOT GOOD.

J. A. Stephenson Says It Doesn't Put on Flesh.

John A. Stephenson, a prosperous farmer and feeder of Skidmore, Mo., who was on today's market with hogs, has found that last year's corn is very inferior in respect to feeding value. Most of the corn looks good but it takes about double the amount of grain to put the same amount of flesh on stock. "Still there are a good many hogs on feed," said Mr. Stephenson, "but very few cattle." The supply of stock cattle is pretty good. They are being roughed thru on corn stalk pasturage and will be grassed out next summer.—St. Joseph Stock Yards Journal.

quietly where we were.

Cass sauntered along by the open door, and looking in, thoroughly took in the situation, and walked boldly in, there being no screens in those days. We commanded him to get out, but he paying no attention to us whatever, he deliberately jumped into my father's chair, put his paws upon the table, and began to devour every thing within his reach. My sister and I pounded him over the back with broom sticks with all our might, but he paid no more attention to it than he would have done to the buzzing of two little flies. The corn bread and chicken were devoured, the gravy turned over, and just as he was reaching for the pound cake, I, becoming desperate, threw down my stick, and tried to pull him away. I locked my hands across those yellowish brown spots over his eyes, and pulled so hard I could see little but the whites of the eye, but he was stronger than I, and grabbed the cake. Finding nothing that we could do amounted to a thing, and daring not to disobey orders by leaving the table, we gave up and began to cry.

Just then my father's tall form appeared in the door, and at one stamp of his big foot, Cass was out the window at a bound.

A day came when Cass never came home again, and we had peace. We never knew what became of him, but I always thought that the long suffering neighbors, tired of his depredations, had gained my mother's consent and killed him.

The prototype, or pattern, of old Cass has been in Missouri for years committing fearful depredations. Women and children go hungry because he has stolen their bread, cold and sick because he has robbed them of their clothing. Bright young men are serving life terms in the penitentiary because of him, and many a man has been hung for crimes that he has committed. He has robbed thousands, not only of their money, houses, and lands, but of their characters, and souls as well; and yet the men of this great Empire state will not turn the gun prohibition upon him because—fornot!—they love him! So he is still in many places in Missouri devouring all that is within his reach. The women of Maryville have been fighting him from their homes for lo! these many years, and with prayers and tears trying to pull him away from choice things—their young and gifted sons—but it has availed nothing, and

FOR YOUR INTERESTS AND OUR OWN

A Message from the Gillam-Jackson Loan & Trust Company

Beginning with next Saturday we are going to start a unique campaign in Maryville and vicinity to get new Savings Accounts.

We are proud of all the Savings Accounts which we now carry, but satisfaction is the enemy of progress, and we want this bank to grow with the growth of Maryville, and we have great faith in the future of our City.

The resources, the stability, the safety of this bank are too well known to require comment. We want to be known also, as the bank of friendship and public spirit and progressive—the bank that our depositors will be proud of and boost for.

The Campaign

The future of any community is the future of its boys and girls. Ten, twenty, thirty years from now the affairs of this city will be in the hands of its present children, and encouraging our boys and girls to develop the habit of saving, this bank feels that it is not only working for the interests of all its depositors, but is performing a distinct service for this whole community, in which all good citizens are virtually interested.

You, who are fathers and mothers, think of the future of YOUR children, and watch this paper for further announcements and investigate our plan.

We have arranged for a handsome present for each person opening a savings account. Your children will want one. You will want one. Come in and let us explain our proposition to you.

Carthage Mothers Find New Way To Keep Boys Free From Colds

Now They Are Not Afraid to Let the Children Run Outdoors Freely.

Every mother knows how hard it is to keep children, especially boys, indoors in bad weather. And yet if they run out it usually means croup or colds. Carthage, Mo., mothers have solved this problem by keeping plenty of fresh air in the bedroom at night, and applying a hot application of Vick's Vap-O-Rub at the first sign of trouble.

Vap-O-Rub really is a remarkable preparation. It is the invention of a North Carolina druggist, and is universally used in the South, but was introduced here only last winter.

It comes in salve form and is applied externally over the throat and chest. Externally—it acts like a poultice or plaster, relieving the tightness and soreness. Internally—it acts like a vapor-lamp, except that you do not have to keep the windows shut and the fresh air excluded as you do with the old-fashioned vapor-lamp. Vick's is so made that the body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors are inhaled with every breath through the air passages to the lungs, carrying the medication right to the affected parts.

Mrs. Lee Wilkerson, 409 E. Chest-Koch Pharmacy, Orear-Henry Drug Company.

nut St., Carthage, tried Vick's Vap-O-Rub for a cold and hoarseness in chest and throat, and also for muscular soreness, and writes—"I have never used anything with as good results. I believe it is a necessity in every home."

Mrs. M. L. Salyard, 1115 S. Maple St., Carthage, tried Vap-O-Rub for a "very severe cold in my head and received almost instant relief."

Mrs. Bertha Crowe, R. F. D. No. 7, has a little boy four years old who "is bothered with bronchial trouble, and catches cold whenever he runs out in damp weather. His head and nose stop up and he coughs so much that his lungs wheeze until you can hear him all over the room." Mrs. Crowe says she just rubs Vap-O-Rub well over the throat and chest and covers with a warm flannel cloth, and the vapors arising open his head. She also stops his cough by letting him swallow a small piece. In fact, Mrs. Crowe writes us quite a long letter and ends by saying—"I would advise all mothers to keep Vap-O-Rub on hand, especially if they have any small children. You don't need to buy cough syrups when you have a bottle on hand, and I find it better than any internal medicine." Three sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL RECOVERY FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE

For nearly nine years I was a great sufferer from what my doctor said was Kidney trouble and my blood was out of order; enduring all that time excruciating pain in my back and across my bowels. I was drawn down so that I could only walk with my hands on my knees. My doctor said he could do nothing for me. I tried many kinds of medicine but all to no avail. A friend told me about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and as I had tried everything else that I heard of, I bought a bottle of Swamp-Root, and it did wonders for me. I prize it higher than any other medicine and I shall recommend it to my friends. I wish to add right here that after using Swamp-Root for two months I began to straighten up and am now sound and well, and feel like I might live a long time yet to tell what your medicine has done for me.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR, DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

Try This! Hair Gets Thick, Glossy, Wavy and Beautiful at Once.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yet—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

FOUNDED ON DILL PICKLES.

So Potash and Perlmutter Grew Into Story and Comedy.

That famous cloak house of Potash and Perlmutter had as its foundation a dill pickle. It came about in this wise: The pickle was partly in the mouth of Abe Potash, and under pressure spurted its acid juice into the honest eye of Morris Perlmutter sitting opposite.

Out of this partnership grew the famous stories of Montague Glass in the Saturday Evening Post, and out of these stories grew the three act comedy, "Potash and Perlmutter," which A. H. Woods will present at the Empire Theatre February 4.

An Arab Legend.

"There is none so poor but there is one poorer."

A poor Arab spent his last barn on a high cliff to eat them and die. As he threw the stones over a lean hand shot out below and caught them.

"Ho!" said he. "Why do you catch my date stones?"

"Because, O brother," answered a weak voice. "I have not eaten these three days, and Allah has sent these stones to save my life."

"Praise be to Allah," answered the first man, "for he has saved me also, for here is one poorer than I."

And both men went into the city.

Why She Was Pleased.

"Do you mean to tell me that you actually overcame that ancient antipathy of yours for Mrs. Muggsby and called on her this afternoon?" said his wife's husband.

"That's about the size of it," replied her husband's wife.

"And she was glad to see you?"

"There isn't any doubt about it."

"Why do you think that?"

"Well, I had on that old dress I've worn three seasons and a hat that is entitled to a prominent place in some museum for antiquities, while she had on a new gown just from Paris. Oh, yes, I'm sure she was tickled to death, figuratively speaking, when I called!" —Chicago News.

Beefsteak Smothered in Tomatoes.

Some day when the oven is being used for other cooking plan to have for dinner round or planked steak cooked with tomatoes, and for this dish either fresh or canned ones can be utilized. Place the steak in a slightly greased baking pan which has a close fitting cover. Cover it with tomatoes, sliced if fresh or just turned out of the can if canned. Add also one small onion coarsely chopped and a small piece of bay leaf, together with salt and pepper. Cover the whole closely and cook for an hour and a half without removing the cover of the baking dish. Add no water, as the tomatoes are moist enough. —Philadelphia Ledger.

To Find the Water Level in Soil.

In the Farm and Fireside is the following advice to the farmer who is about to plant his crops:

"The water level is a term used in speaking about soils. It means the depth in the ground where the soil is saturated with moisture.

"To find it simply take a post hole digger and dig down until water stands at the bottom of the hole. Do this in an ordinary season when the ground has about the average amount of moisture. For most crops the water level should be about three feet below the surface, for alfalfa at least five feet. A water level two to three feet deep is excellent for the majority of farm crops."

FORTITUDE.

There is nothing in the world so much admired as a man who knows how to bear unhappiness with courage. —Seneca.

MAJOR URGES MORE ECONOMY

No New Buildings or Extensions Because of Insufficient Funds—Normal Here Holding Back.

According to a dispatch from Jefferson City Governor Major has sent notices to heads of state institutions that the condition of the state revenues would not permit any expenditures for extensions or for new buildings. The funds for the various institutions, he said, are barely sufficient to provide salaries and maintenance expenses. The last legislature overappropriated the estimated state revenues by $4 million dollars. Governor Major vetoed more than 2 million dollars of these appropriations.

President Richardson of the State Normal School had not received any word from Gov. Major at noon today. The Normal has agreed to withhold $15,000 and Mr. Richardson believes that another $5,000 will not be spent of the appropriation. The money that was not spent was intended for a farm building and equipment and some other work.
